Marcus Conyers to Present on Living a Brain-Healthy Lifestyle in Rollins College Lecture Series

Marcus Conyers, author of Positively Smarter, Science and Strategies for Increasing Happiness, Achievement, and Well-being and co-founder of the Center for Innovative Education and Prevention will be presenting on “Living a Brain-Healthy Lifestyle.” The session, part of the Rollins Center for Health Innovation’s 2015 Health Forum Lecture Series, will take place at 7 p.m. May 18 at the Bush Auditorium in the Bush Science Center at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla.

Conyers and other panelists will share information on ways to maximize brain health over a lifetime through the use of nutrition, physical activity, positive attitudes, and social connections. They will present those in attendance with a variety of brain challenges and will present practical strategies for implementing a brain-healthy lifestyle.

Moderating the event will be Chet Evans, executive director of the Rollins Center for Health Innovation. Additional panelists include Beverly Engel, who has designed and implemented innovative training and educational programs in geriatrics and has served as program coordinator for the Alzheimer’s Association in Central and North Florida; and Courtney Mosser, board-certified oncology dietitian at Florida Hospital Celebration Health who has provided lectures on nutrition and brain health.
