Donna Wilson To Discuss POWER of Teacher Leaders At National Title I Conference

Donna Wilson, a renowned author and leader in improving student learning by connecting the implications of mind, brain, and education research to educational practice, is scheduled to speak at the 2016 National Title I Conference, “Frontiers of Opportunity,” taking place January 28 through January 31 in Houston, Texas.

Wilson’s address is entitled “Improving Instruction Through the POWER of the Mind, Brain, and Teacher Leadership Model” and will take place from 1-2 p.m. on January 28. This high-energy presentation will introduce participants to the POWER model for teacher leadership, which emphasizes implications of brain plasticity for lifelong learning, opportunities for purposeful collaboration, working smarter by applying metacognitive strategies, fostering a positive environment, and building on successful results. School and district officials implementing this model for teacher leadership, which is based on the new science of how people learn, can better support effective teaching and leading from preschool through high school.

Following the presentation, Wilson will be on hand for a book signing from 2:30-3:30 p.m.
